

California AB 587 Social Media Companies Terms of Service Report

*For the period: January 1 to June 30, 2025
Submitted to Office of the Attorney General for California: October 1, 2025*

This Terms of Service Report has been prepared by TikTok Inc., on behalf of itself and its affiliates, (TikTok) and submitted to the California Office of the Attorney General in accordance with the requirements of California Assembly Bill No. 587, Social media companies: terms of service (AB 587).¹

At TikTok, our mission is to inspire creativity and bring joy. The safety and well-being of our community is our priority, and we have thousands of trust and safety professionals globally working to protect our users. TikTok has a strong track record in proactive transparency reporting; we have been publishing transparency reports since 2019. Building on our transparency efforts and in line with our obligations under AB 587, we are publishing our Terms of Service Report covering TikTok's activity for the first and second quarters (Q1 and Q2) of 2025.

We have a number of measures designed to keep users safe across priority areas, including from content that violates our Terms of Service and Community Guidelines. TikTok takes the vast majority of action proactively against violative content—through the use of automated moderation technology as well as human moderators—compared to following a report from users.

Providing transparency to our community about how we keep them safe is an ongoing commitment that has no finish line. We are pleased to have built upon the efforts of our previous Terms of Service Reports, and will continue striving to improve on issues of transparency and safety.

¹ Consistent with the Ninth Circuit's decision in X Corp. v Bonta, No. 24-271 (9th Cir. Sep. 4, 2024) and the Final Judgment and Permanent Injunction entered in X Corp. v. Bonta, No. 2:23-cv-01939 (E.D. Cal. Sep. 08, 2023) (Dkt. 59), we have omitted disclosures relating to the "categories of content" found in §§ 22677(a)(3), 22677(a)(5), and 22677(a)(4)(A) of AB 587, which the Court found were facially unconstitutional.

1. TikTok's Terms of Service (+ Annexes A, B & C)

2. Content Moderation Practices

Section 1. TikTok's Terms of Service (§ 22677(a)(1))

TikTok's current Terms of Service (Terms), attached as Annex A, are available on our website and in our application. Our Terms contain a link to our Community Guidelines (together, our Policies), attached as Annex B, which provide additional details to users and the public regarding our safety and content moderation efforts.

TikTok's Community Guidelines were updated on August 14, 2025, and became effective on September 13, 2025. A redline showing the changes from the previous version is attached as Annex C. Our Terms have not been updated since the previous AB 587 report.

Section 2. Content Moderation Practices (§ 22677(a)(4)(B)-(E))

More than one billion people around the world come to TikTok to create, share, and connect, and we're committed to safeguarding our platform so our community can discover and do what they love. We invest in advanced moderation technologies and thousands of safety professionals who work together to protect our community.

Our Community Guidelines establish a set of norms and common code of conduct that help us maintain a safe and inclusive environment for our community. They are the starting point when it comes to how we form and operate our content moderation strategies and practices and they contain provisions that prohibit various forms of illegal and otherwise harmful content. Our Community Guidelines include rules for what is allowed on TikTok, and they apply to accounts, content, and the way people engage with features like comments or search, as well as standards for what is eligible for the For You feed (FYF). We use a combination of automation and human moderation to identify, review, and action content that violates our Policies, and work to apply our rules consistently, quickly, and accurately in over 70 languages globally.

Our policies are developed by experts from a variety of disciplines and we regularly review and update our Community Guidelines to evolve alongside new behaviors and risks. We also continuously consult with experts, including our regional Advisory Councils and our Global Youth Council, to bring perspectives from outside our company to this work, understand industry best practices, and consider how our policies could impact the many communities who create and share on TikTok from around the world. Our goal is to create a safe and entertaining experience for our diverse community.

Key Principles

We're committed to building transparent content moderation processes that are fair and just for creators and reflect our commitment to providing transparency and consistency. We notify people when we remove their content or accounts, share the reason why, and provide a way to appeal. We also provide transparency and enable people to appeal if their content is ineligible for recommendation. People who report violative content to us can follow the outcome of their report through their in-app Safety Center.

In line with our commitment to balancing creative expression with harm prevention, we operate our content moderation processes using automation and human moderation in accordance with the following four pillars, which provide that we will:

1. Remove videos, livestreams, comments and other content that we detect violates our Community Guidelines; ban accounts that repeatedly violate our rules, commit severe violations, or circumvent enforcement of our policies; and block or redirect searches, search suggestions, or hashtags that violate our Community Guidelines (or that become overwhelmingly associated with content that violates our Community Guidelines);
2. Apply additional protections for younger audiences to ensure a suitable experience, such as applying Content Levels to restrict content we identify as not suitable for youth, making content created by anyone under 16 years old ineligible for the For You feed, and setting a higher minimum age requirement for some product features;
3. Maintain For You feed (FYF) eligibility standards to help ensure any content that may be promoted by the recommendation system is appropriate for a broad audience; and
4. Empower our community to shape and tailor their safety or privacy settings, including adding labels, "opt-in" screens, informational banners, or warnings to content so viewers have more context before they choose to engage, and building customizable safety tools for creators and viewers to filter and set higher restrictions for the content they engage with—from For You feed recommendations, to comments and more.

We may take additional, temporary actions to protect our community during crises when there is a heightened risk of real-world harm or threats to public safety, human rights, or civic processes.

Automated Content Moderation Systems (§ 22677(a)(4)(B))

To protect our community and uphold the integrity of our platform, we invest in a combination of advanced moderation technologies and teams of human safety experts. Together, these efforts help us prioritize accuracy while continuing to improve the scale and speed of our efforts as our community grows.

Before content is posted to our platform, it's reviewed by automated moderation technologies which identify content or behavior that may violate our policies or For You feed eligibility standards, or that may require age-restriction or other actions. This approach helps prevent large volumes of violative content or accounts from ever reaching our community. In 2024, over 96% of the content removed through automated technology for violating our policies was taken down before it had any views. Using automated technology, we also prevented over 2 billion spam accounts from being created.

We use a wide range of technologies to detect violations and moderate content on TikTok. This helps us apply our rules accurately and at scale, while also reducing the amount of potentially distressing content that human moderators need to review. These systems look at a variety of signals across content, including keywords, images, titles, descriptions, and audio. If no violation is identified, the content will be available to view on the platform. If a potential violation is found, the automated moderation system will either pass it on to our safety teams for further review or remove it automatically if there is a high degree of confidence that the content violates our Community Guidelines. This automated removal is applied when violations are most clear-cut, such as nudity or youth safety.

We use a variety of automated tools, including:

- Computer vision models, which help to detect objects that violate our Community Guidelines—like weapons or hate symbols.
- Audio banks and “classifiers” that help us detect audio clips that are similar or modified to previous violations. Audio clips are reviewed for violations of our Community Guidelines.
- Text detection models, which review written content like comments or hashtags, using foundational keyword lists to find variations of violative text. “Natural language processing”—a type of Artificial Intelligence (AI) that can interpret the context surrounding content—helps us identify violations that are context-dependent, such as words that can be used in a hateful way but may not violate our policies by themselves. We work with various external experts, like our fact-checking partners, to inform our keyword lists.
- Where we have previously detected content that violates our Policies, we use “similarity detection systems” to not only catch identical or highly similar versions of violative content, but other types of content that share contextual similarities and may require additional review. These technologies prevent further re-distribution of violative content on the platform. We work with external groups, such as Tech Against Terrorism, on hate or violent extremist content, to detect and remove violative content that has already been identified off the platform more quickly.
- Activity-based technologies, which look at how accounts are being operated to help us disrupt deceptive activities like bot accounts, spam, or attempts to artificially inflate engagement through fake likes or follow attempts.
- “Large language learning models” (LLMs) that scale and improve content moderation. LLMs can comprehend human language and perform highly specific, complex tasks. This can make it possible to moderate content with a higher degree of precision, consistency, and speed than human moderation.
- “Multi-modal LLMs,” which also perform complex, highly specific tasks related to other types of content, such as visual content. For example, we can use this technology to make misinformation moderation easier by extracting specific misinformation “claims” from videos that moderators can isolate and assess more quickly.

We continually invest in enhancing our detection and moderation technologies, so that we can detect violative content faster and minimize its potential to be viewed. If users believe we have made a mistake, they can appeal the removal of their content.

To ensure fair and consistent review of potentially violative content, human moderators work alongside our automated moderation systems. These moderators take into account additional context and nuance not always detected by technology. We moderate content in more than 70 languages with specialized moderation teams for complex issues, such as misinformation.

Human Review (§ 22677(a)(4)(B))

Human insight plays a crucial role in the content moderation process, from our community or external experts, to our own safety professionals. We have thousands of safety professionals globally who help build our technologies, develop and enforce our policies, design new safety features, and work with experts and industry peers. Human moderation helps improve our automated moderation systems by providing feedback for the underlying machine learning models to strengthen our ongoing detection capabilities. This continuous improvement helps reduce the volume of potentially distressing videos that moderators view and enables moderators to focus on content that requires a greater understanding of context and nuance (such as misinformation, hate speech and harassment).

The responsibilities of members of our safety team include:

- Reviewing content flagged by technology: When our automated moderation systems identify potentially problematic content but cannot make an automated decision to remove it, they send the content to our moderation teams for further review. If a violation is found, the video will be removed. If no violation is identified, the video will be posted on TikTok. To support this work, we have developed technology that can identify potentially violative items in video frames, so that content moderators can carefully review the video and the context in which it appears. This technology improves the efficiency of moderators by helping them more adeptly identify violative images or objects, quickly recognize violations, and make decisions accordingly.
- Reviewing reports from our community: We offer our community easy-to-use in-app and online reporting tools so they can flag any content or account they feel is in violation of our Community Guidelines. We use technology to quickly address clear-cut violations, while human experts focus on addressing new or complex kinds of violations. While these reports are important, the vast majority of removed content is identified proactively before it receives any views or is reported to us.
- Reviewing popular content: Harmful content has the potential to rapidly gain popularity and pose a threat to our community. In order to reduce this risk, our automated moderation systems may send videos with a high number of views to our content moderators for further review against our Community Guidelines. This helps us reduce the reach of violative content and ensure that content which is recommended to the For You feed is appropriate for a broad, general audience.
- Assessing appeals: If someone disagrees with our decision to restrict or remove their content or an account, they can file an appeal for reconsideration. These appeals will be sent to content moderators to decide if the content should be allowed back onto the platform or the account reinstated.

- Overseeing and updating detection rules that tell our technologies what to look for: This includes conducting proactive investigations into new kinds of harmful content, adding new keywords or rules when needed, and updating existing ones to ensure our approach is still proportional. The teams who work on these include experts in certain safety topics (such as hate speech or misinformation), as well as experts in local markets who can account for local nuances.
- Working with our global Community Partner Channel to give organizations with safety expertise an additional route for reporting content that they believe violates Community Guidelines: Hundreds of organizations who specialize in a range of safety issues use our Community Partner Channel. Their reports help inform safety professionals who can take any additional actions necessary to prevent similar content from spreading. They also give us early insight into harmful content that is spreading off TikTok, so we can take any necessary measures before it reaches our platform.

For example, in an effort to reduce the spread of misinformation, we understand that assessing harmful misinformation requires additional context and assessment by our specialized misinformation moderators who have enhanced training, expertise, and tools to identify such content, including our global repository of previously fact-checked claims from the International Fact Checking Network accredited fact-checking partners and direct access to our fact-checking partners where appropriate.

In addition to our own detection methods, we use industry-wide technologies to identify some kinds of content. For example, to combat child sexual abuse material (CSAM), in addition to our own technology we use hash lists compiled by NCMEC and the Internet Watch Foundation (IWF), which contain unique digital fingerprints (known as "hashes") of known CSAM imagery. This enables us to prevent previously identified violative content from being shared on our platform. We also leverage Microsoft's PhotoDNA, YouTube's CSAI Match, and Google's Content Safety API to further support the identification of known, new, or suspected CSAM at the point of upload.

As another example, we also implement the Coalition for Content Provenance and Authenticity's (C2PA) "Content Credentials" technology in order to help identify and label AI-generated content from other platforms. This embeds technical information known as "provenance metadata" that enables us to automatically identify AI-generated content from other platforms who also use Content Credentials. TikTok was the first social media or video-sharing platform to begin implementing this increasingly widely-adopted technology standard.

Response to User Reports of Violations of the Terms of Service (§ 22677(a)(4)(C))

As explained in TikTok's online Safety Center, TikTok takes a proactive approach to keeping our community safe. While TikTok is able to remove the majority of this content before it's reported to us, we encourage everyone in our community to play an active part in keeping TikTok a safe and welcoming place by reporting content they feel violates our Community Guidelines. If a user decides to report, they can feel safe knowing that TikTok will not disclose their identity to the person whose content or account they're reporting.

Our Policies apply to all accounts and content on the platform. While we primarily enforce our Policies at our own initiative through automated and human moderation, users can also use the reporting functions and forms to alert TikTok to content they believe violates our Policies.

We offer our community easily accessible in-app and online reporting tools so they can flag any content or account they feel is in violation of our Policies. These reports are an important component of our content moderation process; however, the vast majority of removed content is identified proactively before it is reported to us.

If it is determined that content violates our Community Guidelines, TikTok may take action that includes:

- Removing the violative content from the platform;
- Banning the account; and/or
- Reporting incidents of youth sexual exploitation and abuse to the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children \(NCMEC\). We also report to relevant law enforcement authorities when there is a specific, credible, and imminent threat to human life or serious physical injury. For example, we forward suspected illicit drug activity content to law enforcement authorities when it poses specific, credible and imminent threats to users or the community.

While the spontaneity of the FYF is what makes TikTok unique, it is intended for a broad audience that includes everyone from teenagers to great-grandparents. There are times when we make certain content ineligible for the For You feed if it may be inappropriate for a broad audience. This includes content related to:

- Youth Safety and Well-Being
- Hate Speech and Hateful Behavior
- Disordered Eating and Body Image
- Dangerous Activity and Challenges
- Nudity and Body Exposure
- Sexually Suggestive Content
- Shocking and Graphic Content
- Misinformation

- Civic and Election Integrity
- Fake Engagement
- Unoriginal Content
- Gambling
- Alcohol, Tobacco, and Drugs
- Commercial Disclosure and Paid Promotion
- TikTok LIVE content with the primary purpose of directing people off-platform

We may also make some of this content harder to find in Search. Users can learn more about content violations and FYF ineligibility in our Help Center under content violations and bans.

Types of notifications that go out after a report is made:

- After a report is made, we may update users on the status and progress of their report in their inbox, or the report outcome can be viewed in a user's report history under Settings and Privacy > Support > Safety Center > Report Records. For reports made through our cyberbullying or sexual abuse forms, we may also provide notification by SMS or email if a user requests.
- If we remove content, we notify the user's account in the app along with the violation reason.
- If the person's account has been banned because of a violation, they will receive a banner notification when they next open the app informing them about this change in account status.

Removal of Content, Users, or Groups That Violate the Policies (§ 22677(a)(4)(D))

As set out in the Community Guidelines, TikTok removes individual pieces of content that are found to violate the Community Guidelines and users are notified when this occurs.

Repeat Infringers: As explained in the Content violations and bans section of our online Help Center, our moderation system counts the number of times an account has violated our Community Guidelines, and for each of those violations, the user will receive a strike on their account. We count strikes by policy area as listed in our Community Guidelines (for example, safety and civility) or by feature (for example, comments or direct messages) and the account will receive a strike based on the severity of the policy violation. If an account meets the threshold of strikes within either a product feature (i.e. Comments, LIVE) or policy (i.e. Harassment and Bullying), it may be permanently banned.

We recognize that certain policy violations pose a greater risk to our community than others. Because of this, the policy thresholds for a permanent ban can vary. For instance, we place greater weight on violations of our hateful ideologies policy than for violations of our spam policy. We'll notify the user if they're on the verge of being banned.

Account Bans: We may also suspend or permanently ban accounts where we identify violations of our Policies, including where:

- The user does not meet the minimum age or other requirements as indicated in our Terms of Service;
- The account impersonates another person or entity in a deceptive manner;
- A user has a severe violation on their account (such as promoting or threatening violence);
- An account reaches the strike threshold for multiple violations within a policy or feature; or
- Multiple violations of our Intellectual Property Policy.

We provide notifications to users who have violated our Policies. If content is posted that we do not allow or we suspend or ban an account because of a violation, users will be notified in the app. Users can generally appeal these decisions once they receive the notification of a content violation or account ban or suspension.

Law Enforcement: If there is a specific, credible, and imminent threat to human life or serious physical injury, we report it to relevant law enforcement authorities. This includes suspected illicit drug activity content when it poses specific, credible and imminent threats to users or the community. In addition, we report incidents of youth sexual exploitation and abuse to the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children (NCMEC).

You acknowledge that we have no obligation to pre-screen, monitor, review, or edit any content posted by you and other users on the Services (including User Content).

User-Generated Content

Users of the Services may be permitted to upload, post or transmit (such as via a stream) or otherwise make available content through the Services including, without limitation, any text, photographs, user videos, sound recordings and the musical works embodied therein, including videos that incorporate locally stored sound recordings from your personal music library and ambient noise ("User Content"). Users of the Services may also extract all or any portion of User Content created by another user to produce additional User Content, including collaborative User Content with other users, that combine and intersperse User Content generated by more than one user. Users of the Services may also overlay music, graphics, stickers, Virtual Items (as defined and further explained Virtual Items Policy) and other elements provided by TikTok ("TikTok Elements") onto this User Content and transmit this User Content through the Services. The information and materials in the User Content, including User Content that includes TikTok Elements, have not been verified or approved by us. The views expressed by other users on the Services (including through use of the virtual gifts) do not represent our views or values.

Whenever you access or use a feature that allows you to upload or transmit User Content through the Services (including via certain third party social media platforms such as Instagram, Facebook, YouTube, Twitter), or to make contact with other users of the Services, you must comply with the standards set out at “Your Access to and Use of Our Services” above. You may also choose to upload or transmit your User Content, including User Content that includes TikTok Elements, on sites or platforms hosted by third parties. If you decide to do this, you must comply with their content guidelines as well as with the standards set out at “Your Access to and Use of Our Services” above. As noted above, these features may not be available to all users of the Services, and we have no liability to you for limiting your right to certain features of the Services.

You warrant that any such contribution does comply with those standards, and you will be liable to us and indemnify us for any breach of that warranty. This means you will be responsible for any loss or damage we suffer as a result of your breach of warranty.

Any User Content will be considered non-confidential and non-proprietary. You must not post any User Content on or through the Services or transmit to us any User Content that you consider to be confidential or proprietary. When you submit User Content through the Services, you agree and represent that you own that User Content, or you have received all necessary permissions, clearances from, or are authorised by, the owner of any part of the content to submit it to the Services, to transmit it from the Services to other third party platforms, and/or adopt any third party content.

If you only own the rights in and to a sound recording, but not to the underlying musical works embodied in such sound recordings, then you must not post such sound recordings to the Services unless you have all permissions, clearances from, or are authorised by, the owner of any part of the content to submit it to the Services

You or the owner of your User Content still own the copyright in User Content sent to us, but by submitting User Content via the Services, you hereby grant us an unconditional irrevocable, non-exclusive, royalty-free, fully transferable, perpetual worldwide licence to use, modify, adapt, reproduce, make derivative works of, publish and/or transmit, and/or distribute and to authorise other users of the Services and other third-parties to view, access, use, download, modify, adapt, reproduce, make derivative works of, publish and/or transmit your User Content in any format and on any platform, either now known or hereinafter invented.

You further grant us a royalty-free license to use your user name, image, voice, and likeness to identify you as the source of any of your User Content; provided, however, that your ability to provide an image, voice, and likeness may be subject to limitations due to age restrictions.

For the avoidance of doubt, the rights granted in the preceding paragraphs of this Section include, but are not limited to, the right to reproduce sound recordings (and make mechanical reproductions of the musical works embodied in such sound recordings), and publicly perform and communicate to the public sound recordings (and the musical works embodied therein), all on a royalty-free basis. This means that you are granting us the right to use your User Content without the obligation to pay royalties to any third party, including, but not limited to, a sound recording copyright owner (e.g., a record label), a musical work copyright owner (e.g., a music publisher), a performing rights organization (e.g., ASCAP, BMI, SESAC, etc.) (a “PRO”), a sound recording PRO (e.g., SoundExchange), any unions or guilds, and engineers, producers or other royalty participants involved in the creation of User Content.

Specific Rules for Musical Works and for Recording Artists. If you are a composer or author of a musical work and are affiliated with a PRO, then you must notify your PRO of the royalty-free license you grant through these Terms in your User Content to us. You are solely responsible for ensuring your compliance with the relevant PRO’s reporting obligations. If you have assigned your rights to a music publisher, then you must obtain the consent of such music publisher to grant the royalty-free license(s) set forth in these Terms in your User Content or have such music publisher enter into these Terms with us. Just because you authored a musical work (e.g., wrote a song) does not mean you have the right to grant us the licenses in these Terms. If you are a recording artist under contract with a record label, then you are solely responsible for ensuring that your use of the Services is in compliance with any contractual obligations you may have to your record label, including if you create any new recordings through the Services that may be claimed by your label.

Through-To-The-Audience Rights. All of the rights you grant in your User Content in these Terms are provided on a through-to-the-audience basis, meaning the owners or operators of third party services will not have any separate liability to you or any other third party for User Content posted or used on such third party service via the Services.

Waiver of Rights to User Content. By posting User Content to or through the Services, you waive any rights to prior inspection or approval of any marketing or promotional materials related to such User Content. You also waive any and all rights of privacy, publicity, or any other rights of a similar nature in connection with your User Content, or any portion thereof. To the extent any moral rights are not transferable or assignable, you hereby waive and agree never to assert any and all moral rights, or to support, maintain or permit any action based on any moral rights that you may have in or with respect to any User Content you Post to or through the Services.

We also have the right to disclose your identity to any third party who is claiming that any User Content posted or uploaded by you to our Services constitutes a violation of their intellectual property rights, or of their right to privacy.

We, or authorised third parties, reserve the right to cut, crop, edit or refuse to publish, your content at our or their sole discretion. We have the right to remove, disallow, block or delete any posting you make on our Services if, in our opinion, your post does not comply with the content standards set out at “Your Access to and Use of Our Services” above. In addition, we have the right – but not the obligation – in our sole discretion to remove, disallow, block or delete any User Content (i) that we consider to violate these Terms, or (ii) in response to complaints from other users or third parties, with or without notice and without any liability to you. As a result, we recommend that you save copies of any User Content that you post to the Services on your personal device(s) in the event that you want to ensure that you have permanent access to copies of such User Content. We do not guarantee the accuracy, integrity, appropriateness or quality of any User Content, and under no circumstances will we be liable in any way for any User Content.

You control whether your User Content is made publicly available on the Services to all other users of the Services or only available to people you approve. To restrict access to your User Content, you should select the privacy setting available within the Platform.

We accept no liability in respect of any content submitted by users and published by us or by authorised third parties.

If you wish to file a complaint about information or materials uploaded by other users, contact us at: <https://www.tiktok.com/legal/report/feedback>.

TikTok takes reasonable measures to expeditiously remove from our Services any infringing material that we become aware of. It is TikTok’s policy, in appropriate circumstances and at its discretion, to disable or terminate the accounts of users of the Services who repeatedly infringe copyrights or intellectual property rights of others.

While our own staff is continually working to develop and evaluate our own product ideas and features, we pride ourselves on paying close attention to the interests, feedback, comments, and suggestions we receive from the user community. If you choose to contribute by sending us or our employees any ideas for products, services, features, modifications, enhancements, content, refinements, technologies, content offerings (such as audio, visual, games, or other types of content), promotions, strategies, or product/feature names, or any related documentation, artwork, computer code, diagrams, or other materials (collectively “Feedback”), then regardless of what your accompanying communication may say, the following terms will apply, so that future misunderstandings can be avoided. Accordingly, by sending Feedback to us, you agree that:

TikTok has no obligation to review, consider, or implement your Feedback, or to return to you all or part of any Feedback for any reason;

Feedback is provided on a non-confidential basis, and we are not under any obligation to keep any Feedback you send confidential or to refrain from using or disclosing it in any way; and

You irrevocably grant us perpetual and unlimited permission to reproduce, distribute, create derivative works of, modify, publicly perform (including on a through-to-the-audience basis), communicate to the public, make available, publicly display, and otherwise use and exploit the Feedback and derivatives thereof for any purpose and without restriction, free of charge and without attribution of any kind, including by making, using, selling, offering for sale, importing, and promoting commercial products and services that incorporate or embody Feedback, whether in whole or in part, and whether as provided or as modified.

8. Indemnity

You agree to defend, indemnify, and hold harmless TikTok, its parents, subsidiaries, and affiliates, and each of their respective officers, directors, employees, agents and advisors from any and all claims, liabilities, costs, and expenses, including, but not limited to, attorneys' fees and expenses, arising out of a breach by you or any user of your account of these Terms or arising out of a breach of your obligations, representation and warranties under these Terms.

11. Other Terms

Open Source. The Platform contains certain open source software. Each item of open source software is subject to its own applicable license terms, which can be found at Open Source Policy.

Entire Agreement. These Terms constitute the whole legal agreement between you and TikTok and govern your use of the Services and completely replace any prior agreements between you and TikTok in relation to the Services.

Links. You may link to our home page, provided you do so in a way that is fair and legal and does not damage our reputation or take advantage of it. You must not establish a link in such a way as to suggest any form of association, approval or endorsement on our part where none exists. You must not establish a link to our Services in any website that is not owned by you. The website in which you are linking must comply in all respects with the content standards set out at “Your Access to and Use of Our Services” above. We reserve the right to withdraw linking permission without notice.

No Waiver. Our failure to insist upon or enforce any provision of these Terms shall not be construed as a waiver of any provision or right.

Security. We do not guarantee that our Services will be secure or free from bugs or viruses. You are responsible for configuring your information technology, computer programmes and platform to access our Services. You should use your own virus protection software.

Severability. If any court of law, having jurisdiction to decide on this matter, rules that any provision of these Terms is invalid, then that provision will be removed from the Terms without affecting the rest of the Terms, and the remaining provisions of the Terms will continue to be valid and enforceable.

Counter-notice. If a counter-notice is received by TikTok’s Copyright Agent, we may send a copy of the counter-notice to the original complaining party informing that person that we may replace the removed content or cease disabling it. Unless the original complaining party files an action seeking a court order against the Content Provider, member or user, the removed content may be replaced, or access to it restored, in ten business days or more after receipt of the counter-notice, at TikTok’s sole discretion.

Please understand that filing a counter-notification may lead to legal proceedings between you and the complaining party to determine ownership. Be aware that there may be adverse legal consequences in your country if you make a false or bad faith allegation by using this process.

California Consumer Rights Notice. Under California Civil Code Section 1789.3, California users of the Services receive the following specific consumer rights notice: The Complaint Assistance Unit of the Division of Consumer Services of the California Department of Consumer Affairs may be contacted in writing at the contact information set forth at https://www.dca.ca.gov/about_us/contactus.shtml.

We do not accept California Removal Requests via postal mail, telephone or facsimile. We are not responsible for notices that are not labeled or sent properly, and we may not be able to respond if you do not provide adequate information.

Exports. You agree that you will not export or re-export, directly or indirectly the Services and/or other information or materials provided by TikTok hereunder, to any country for which the United States or any other relevant jurisdiction requires any export license or other governmental approval at the time of export without first obtaining such license or approval. In particular, but without limitation, the Services may not be exported or re-exported (a) into any U.S. embargoed countries or any country that has been designated by the U.S.

Government as a “terrorist supporting” country, or (b) to anyone listed on any U.S. Government list of prohibited or restricted parties, including the U.S. Treasury Department's list of Specially Designated Nationals or the U.S. Department of Commerce Denied Person's List or Entity List.

U.S. Government Restricted Rights. The Services and related documentation are "Commercial Items", as that term is defined at 48 C.F.R. §2.101, consisting of "Commercial Computer Software" and "Commercial Computer Software Documentation", as such terms are used in 48 C.F.R. §12.212 or 48 C.F.R. §227.7202, as applicable. Consistent with 48 C.F.R. §12.212 or 48 C.F.R. §227.7202-1 through 227.7202-4, as applicable, the Commercial Computer Software and Commercial Computer Software Documentation are being licensed to U.S. Government end users (a) only as Commercial Items and (b) with only those rights as are granted to all other end users pursuant to the terms and conditions herein.

12. Dispute Resolution

A. Informal resolution process first.

If we have a dispute with you relating to or arising out of these Terms, we will first try and resolve it with you amicably. You agree to do the same for us. To be clear, when we use the terms “TikTok,” “we,” or “us” in this Section 12.A, we mean TikTok Inc. and all of our affiliated companies and individuals.

The party raising a dispute will initiate this process by notifying the other. Whichever party receives the notice will have 60 days to respond. If the dispute has not been resolved after the response time has expired, or within 30 days after a response has been issued, whichever is earlier, either party may file legal action against the other. Engaging in this informal dispute resolution process is a requirement that must be completed before filing any legal action. You and TikTok agree that you both will make a good faith effort to resolve the dispute amicably before either you or TikTok files any legal action against the other, and that the statute of limitations and any filing fee deadlines shall be tolled while the parties engage in the informal dispute resolution process.

B. Exclusive venue.

These Terms and any claims, causes of action, of any kind or character, or demand arising out of or relating to the Terms will be governed by the laws of the State of California. Any claim, cause of action or dispute, arising out of or relating to these Terms shall also be resolved exclusively in the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California or the Superior Court of the State of California, County of Los Angeles. You also agree to submit to the personal jurisdiction of either of these courts for the purpose of litigating any such claim.

C. One year limitation period / limitation on legal action.

YOU AND TIKTOK AGREE THAT YOU MUST INITIATE ANY PROCEEDING OR ACTION WITHIN ONE (1) YEAR OF THE DATE OF THE OCCURRENCE OF THE EVENT OR FACTS GIVING RISE TO A DISPUTE THAT IS ARISING OUT OF OR RELATED TO THESE TERMS. OTHERWISE, YOU FOREVER WAIVE THE RIGHT TO PURSUE ANY CLAIM OR CAUSE OF ACTION, OF ANY KIND OR CHARACTER, BASED ON SUCH EVENTS OR FACTS, AND SUCH CLAIM(S) OR CAUSE(S) OF ACTION ARE PERMANENTLY BARRED.

TikTok Community Guidelines

TikTok Community Guidelines

Community Guidelines

Released August 14, 2025

Effective September 13, 2025

Overview

TikTok is where people discover things they love, build communities, and express themselves. Our mission is simple: we want to inspire creativity and bring joy.

We have Community Guidelines to help keep TikTok a safe and positive experience. These rules apply to everyone and everything on our platform.

You're in the right place if you're wondering:

- What's allowed on TikTok
- What's not allowed on TikTok
- What's not allowed in the For You feed (FYF)

We've organized our Community Guidelines by topic to make information easier to find. Under each category, you'll find a "More information" section. That's where we define key terms, answer common questions, and share helpful examples. These examples are meant to guide you, but they don't cover every situation.

If you're ever unsure about what to post, just remember to be kind and treat others the way you would want to be treated.

Thanks for helping to keep TikTok a welcoming space for everyone!

Our Rules

We strive for Community Guidelines that are easy to understand. We've created a quick summary of what we don't allow across each of the major topics covered in our Community Guidelines. If you're looking for more details, they can be found after this section.

Safety and Civility

- Violent and Criminal Behavior: We don't allow threats, encouragement or glorification of violence, promotion of crime, or instructions on how to commit harmful acts.
- Hate Speech and Hateful Behavior: We don't allow content that promotes hate or attacks people based on protected attributes like race, religion, gender, or sexual orientation.
- Violent and Hateful Organizations and Individuals: We don't allow people or groups that promote violence or hate, including violent extremists, criminal organizations, or those responsible for mass violence. Supporting, recruiting for, or promoting these entities is also prohibited.

- Youth Sexual and Physical Abuse: We don't allow content that shows, promotes, or facilitates the sexual abuse, exploitation, or harm of young people.
- Adult Sexual Abuse: We don't allow content that shows, promotes, or facilitates adult sexual abuse or exploitation.
- Human Trafficking and Smuggling: We don't allow content that promotes or facilitates human trafficking or smuggling.
- Harassment and Bullying: We don't allow content that harasses or bullies others, including degrading remarks about appearance, doxing, sexual harassment, or coordinated abuse. We allow commentary about political figures which may be critical, but remove content that crosses into severe harm.

Mental and Behavioral Health

- Suicide and Self-Harm: We don't allow content that shows, promotes, or provides instructions for suicide or self-harm.
- Disordered Eating, Risky Weight Management, and Body Image: We don't allow content that promotes disordered eating, risky weight loss or muscle gain methods, or harmful body comparisons.
- Dangerous Activity and Challenges: We don't allow content that shows or promotes dangerous stunts, dares, or challenges that could lead to physical harm.

Sensitive and Mature Themes

- Body Exposure and Sexualized Behaviors: We don't allow some types of body exposure or sexual behavior, including nudity, sexual activity, sexual services, or any sexually suggestive behavior or significant exposure involving young people.
- Shocking and Graphic Content: We don't allow extremely graphic, violent, or disturbing content—especially when it could cause viewers emotional distress.
- Animal Abuse: We don't allow content that shows or promotes animal abuse, cruelty, neglect, or exploitation.

Integrity and Authenticity

- Misinformation: We don't allow misinformation that could cause significant harm to individuals or society.
- Civic and Election Integrity: We don't allow content that could mislead voters or interfere with elections, including false claims about how to vote, who can vote, or the outcome of an election.
- Edited Media and AI-Generated Content (AIGC): We require clear labeling when AI or editing is used to realistically depict people or scenes. We don't allow AIGC that misleads about matters of public importance or that harms individuals.

- Unoriginal Content and Intellectual Property Rights: We don't allow content that violates intellectual property rights, including reposts of copyrighted or trademarked material without permission.
- Deceptive Behavior & Fake Engagement: We don't allow accounts that mislead or try to manipulate our platform, or the trade of services that artificially boost engagement or trick the recommendation system.

Regulated Goods, Services, and Commercial Activities

- Regulated Goods, Services, and Commercial Activities: We don't allow the trade, marketing, or promotion of regulated, prohibited, or high-risk goods and services. Registered business accounts and verified TikTok Shop sellers may be allowed to sell or market some regulated items if they meet strict requirements.
- Commercial Disclosure and Paid Marketing: If you're promoting a product, brand, or business, you must use TikTok's content disclosure setting.
- Frauds and Scams: We don't allow content that promotes or facilitates scams, fraud, or deceptive schemes.

Privacy and Security

- Personal Information: We don't allow sharing personal information that could lead to harm, such as identity theft, stalking, or fraud.
- Platform Security: We don't allow attempts to hack, reverse-engineer, or otherwise compromise TikTok's systems.

Want a closer look at these rules, how we enforce them, and how they apply across different areas? We encourage you to keep reading.

Content Moderation

We want TikTok to be a safe, fun, and creative place for everyone. Here's how we support that goal:

We Remove Content

Everyone on TikTok can share content, but when we identify content that falls under the "Not Allowed" rules in our Community Guidelines, we'll remove it.

We Age-Restrict Content

Some content may not be appropriate for people under 18. When we identify content that falls under the "Age-Restricted" standards in our Community Guidelines, we make it viewable only for adults.

For You Feed Standards

The For You Feed is designed to help you discover a variety of content and creators, and for creators to reach new audiences and build thriving communities. However, not all content is guaranteed to be recommended. When we identify content that falls under the “FYF Ineligible” standards in our Community Guidelines, it won't be recommended in the FYF. You can read more about what qualifies here.

We give you tools and resources to stay informed and in control

You are empowered to manage your experience on TikTok. We provide a safety toolkit that helps you customize your content preferences and account settings, and manage interactions. In addition, for some content, you'll see opt-in screens or banners to give you more context about a post.

You can also visit our Safety Center resources for extra support.

Community Principles

TikTok has eight core principles that guide how we develop our rules and how we make complex enforcement decisions. They're all about keeping you safe, respecting human rights, and supporting a creative and welcoming community. We developed these principles with the foundational goal of preventing harm and enabling expression.

At times, we have to make difficult tradeoffs between competing goals. When that happens, we approach the decision thoughtfully and rely on trusted guidance, including:

- Internationally recognized global human rights standards
- Feedback from our community and Advisory Councils
- Input from experts in online safety, public health, and related fields

Here are the eight principles:

1. Prevent Harm: Keeping TikTok safe and fun is our top priority. Harm can look different—it might be physical, emotional, or even financial. To strike the right balance with free expression, we restrict content only when necessary and in a way that seeks to minimize the impact on speech.
2. Support Free Expression: TikTok thrives on creativity. We honor this principle by providing the opportunity to share freely on our platform, while also proactively addressing behavior that can inhibit the speech of others. However, free expression isn't an absolute right. It's always considered in proportion to the potential harm, and can result in your content being removed or not recommended in the FYF.
3. Encourage Kindness and Respect: We aim to foster a space where people treat each other with empathy and dignity. Our approach is designed to help prevent content that demeans or dehumanizes others, making TikTok a safer and more welcoming place for everyone.

4. Respect Local Cultures: People use TikTok in over 150 countries. We work with local experts to make sure that our global approach considers the way harms are experienced across regions, and that we allow for regional applications of our guidelines while upholding human rights standards.
 5. Champion Inclusion: We celebrate the diverse cultures and experiences that make up our TikTok community. We also recognize that some communities have historically faced barriers to participation and expression, and we're committed to reducing disproportionate harms.
 6. Protect Privacy: We are committed to protecting the privacy of our community and anyone shown or discussed on the platform. We strive to ensure that content doesn't expose anyone's personal information or invade their intimate privacy.
 7. Be Transparent and Consistent: We want everyone to know what our rules and standards are, and how we apply them. We seek to provide clear notice of our policies and practices, to apply them consistently, and to share our enforcement efforts at our Transparency Center.
 8. Act Fairly: Evaluating millions of pieces of content each day is a complex effort, but we're committed to being impartial, clear, and providing opportunities to appeal.
- In rare and exceptional situations—such as crises or moments of social unrest—we may adjust our usual enforcement or rules to protect our community and address emerging harms, while remaining guided by our principles.

Youth Safety and Well-Being

We're committed to making TikTok a safe and positive experience for everyone, especially for people under 18. This is who we mean when we refer to “youth” or “young people” in these Community Guidelines. To help keep the platform safer for this age group, we:

- Set age limits for certain features (like needing to be 16+ for your videos to appear in the FYF, or to use Direct Messages)
- Use more restrictive privacy settings by default for younger users
- Limit content that may not be appropriate for people under 18, with content filters and other safeguards. Learn more about this kind of content in the “Age-Restricted” sections throughout these Community Guidelines.

Age Restrictions and Safety Features

You need to be at least 13 years old to create a TikTok account. In some countries, the minimum age may be different based on local laws. In the United States, there is a separate under-13 TikTok experience that includes extra protections like:

- Restricting interactive features that enable users to directly engage with others, such as commenting on content, messaging, sharing their videos, or maintaining an online profile
- FYF with content that's age-appropriate, as assessed by Common Sense Networks
- A dedicated Privacy Policy

If you create a new account in the United States and are under 13, you will automatically enter into this experience.

We remove accounts when we believe the user is under the minimum age required to have one. If we believe someone isn't old enough for features with a minimum age requirement, we'll restrict their access to those features. If your account was removed and you think it was a mistake, you can file an appeal. Anyone can report an account they believe belongs to someone who's too young to have an account—either in the app or online.

We know that parents sometimes post content featuring their children. If you do so, it needs to be clear that the account belongs to an adult. The bio, profile picture, or username are good places to do this.

Youth Safety Enforcement

We don't allow content that could harm young people—physically, emotionally, or developmentally. If we become aware an account holder has committed a sexual offense against a young person, we will ban the account, as well as any other accounts belonging to that person. We report incidents of youth sexual abuse and exploitation to the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children (NCMEC). We also report to relevant law enforcement authorities when there is a specific, credible, and imminent threat to human life or serious physical injury.

Learn more at our Teen Safety Center and Guardian's Guide.

Safety and Civility

Feeling safe and respected is important for everyone's well-being, and treating each other with kindness and civility helps communities thrive. Being respectful doesn't mean you have to agree—it just means treating people with dignity.

1. Violent and Criminal Behavior

TikTok is about bringing people together, not promoting conflict. We don't allow threats, glorifying violence, or promoting crimes that could harm people, animals, or property.

ALLOWED

- Food-related animal body parts, including items typically available in grocery stores
- Documentary or educational content that reports on or condemns animal abuse, unless it shows graphic abuse

Integrity and Authenticity

TikTok is all about having authentic experiences—from the accounts you follow, to the content you see. We want you to feel confident that what you're watching is reliable, original, and shared by real people. This trust is what helps build strong communities both on and off-platform.

1. Misinformation

In a global community, people will have different opinions—but we aim to ground those conversations in facts. That's why we don't allow misinformation that could cause significant harm to individuals or society no matter the intent of the person posting it. This includes hoaxes, misleading AIGC, harmful conspiracy theories, and other false information related to public safety, crises, or major civic events—when such content may lead to violence or cause public panic. We work with independent fact-checkers and experts to assess the accuracy of content, and we factor their assessments into our moderation decisions.

Content is ineligible for the FYF if it contains misinformation that may cause moderate harm to individuals or society. To be cautious, unverified information about crises, major civic events, or content temporarily under review by fact-checkers is also ineligible for the FYF. We may also apply warning labels or prompt users to pause before sharing unconfirmed content.

More information

Misinformation: False or misleading content.

Significant Harm: Serious physical injury or death, severe psychological harm (such as trauma), large-scale property damage, or societal harm, including the undermining of fundamental social systems or institutions.

Conspiracy Theories: Beliefs about unexplained events, or claims that involve rejecting generally accepted explanations for events. This includes suggesting they were carried out by covert or powerful individuals or groups.

Hoaxes: False, fabricated, or misrepresented claims presented as facts.

NOT ALLOWED

- Misinformation that poses a risk to public safety or incites panic, including falsely presenting past crisis events as recent or claiming that critical resources are unavailable during emergencies
- Health misinformation that could cause significant harm, such as promoting unproven treatments that may be fatal, discouraging professional care for life-threatening conditions (e.g., vaccine effectiveness), or spreading false information about how such conditions are transmitted
- Misinformation that denies the existence of climate change, misrepresents its causes, or contradicts its established environmental impact
- Conspiracy theories or hoaxes that could cause significant harm, such as those that make a violent call to action or have links to previous violence

FYF INELIGIBLE

- Conspiracy theories that assign blame to powerful groups or institutions, such as "the government" or a "secret society," and are likely to undermine public confidence or distort a matter of public importance
- Health misinformation that can result in moderate harm, such as false claims about treating non-life threatening conditions like the common cold
- Sharing unedited media that is presented out of context and may mislead a person about a topic of public importance. For example, showing a crowd at a music concert and falsely calling it a political protest
- Misuse of authoritative sources to push misleading conclusions, such as selectively referencing certain scientific data to support a conclusion that is counter to the findings of the study
- Unverified claims about a crisis or major civic event
- Viral misinformation that poses an elevated risk of undermining the integrity of the information ecosystem or eroding trust in institutions, organizations, or businesses

ALLOWED

- Personal opinions that don't include harmful misinformation
- People sharing personal medical experiences, as long as they don't promote misinformation or discourage professional care
- Conversations about climate policy, weather, or technology, as long as they don't deny or misrepresent scientific consensus
- Documentary or educational content reporting on or condemning misinformation

2. Civic and Election Integrity

Elections are important events that often spark lively conversations and debate. We aim to respect these discussions while ensuring TikTok remains a space that brings people together. We welcome informed civic conversations, but draw the line at content that could mislead voters or cause real-world harm. That includes misinformation that could prevent people from voting, interfere with elections, or encourage the unlawful disruption of results.

We classify eligible political TikTok accounts as Government, Politician, and Political Party Accounts and apply a set of policies that prevent the use of certain features. These accounts aren't allowed to participate in incentive programs or creator monetization features.

We also don't allow paid political advertising. This includes creators being compensated for making branded political content, and the use of other promotional tools on the platform, such as Promote. We prohibit advertising of any kind by political figures and entities, and suspected paid political advertising is ineligible for the For You feed. However, eligible government entities may advertise in specific, approved categories—such as public health and safety information, tourism, and culture—after completing a certification process. Additionally, official electoral management bodies may run informational ads about election processes.

To help you manage your TikTok experience, we may add warning labels to content that our fact-checking partners cannot verify. Learn more about our election integrity work.

More information

NOT ALLOWED

- Misinformation about:
 - How, when, and where to vote, or register to vote
 - Voter eligibility or candidate qualifications
 - Laws or procedures for elections, referendums, ballot initiatives, or censuses
 - Election results
- Instructions or encouragement for illegal voting or electoral interference, including voter intimidation or threats to election workers and electoral observers
- Calling for unlawful disruption of a valid election outcome, such as through a coup
- Paid political advertising, whether or not it's disclosed
- Campaign fundraising by Government, Politician, or Political Party accounts

FYF INELIGIBLE

- Unverified claims about an election, such as claiming all ballots are counted before a final tally
- Statements that misrepresent authoritative civic information, such as a false claim about the text of a parliamentary bill
- Suspected paid political advertising

3. Edited Media and AI-Generated Content (AIGC)

We welcome creativity, including when it comes from new digital tools like generative artificial intelligence (AI). But generative AI and editing can blur the line between fact and fiction. To help keep content on TikTok trustworthy and provide people with important context about what they are viewing, we require creators to label AI-generated or significantly edited content that shows realistic-looking scenes or people. Unlabeled content may be removed, restricted, or labeled by our team, depending on the harm it could cause.

Even with labels, some edited or AI-generated content can still be harmful. We don't allow content that's misleading about matters of public importance or harmful to individuals.

More information

AI-Generated Content (AIGC): Any image, video, or audio made or changed by AI. This can include realistic scenes or artistic styles, like anime, cartoons, or paintings.

Significantly Edited Content: Media that makes it seem like someone did or said something they didn't, or alters their appearance so much that they're unrecognizable. This includes:

- Cropping or cutting phrases to change meaning
- Rearranging or combining clips
- Changing speed or adding/removing audio or video parts

Realistic-Appearing Scenes or People: Content that looks like it could be real, such as AI-generated images that look like real photographs or footage.

Likeness: A recognizable image, video, or audio representation of a person, including their face, body, voice, and gestures.

Public Figures: People 18 and older with a significant public role, such as a government official, politician, business leader, or celebrity. We don't identify people under 18 as public figures.

Private Figures: All people under 18, and adults who aren't public figures.

REQUIRED DISCLOSURE (using the AIGC label or a clear caption, watermark, or sticker)

You must label content that uses AI or includes significant edits to show realistic-looking people or scenes. You can add your own clear caption, sticker, or watermark. For AI-generated content, you can also use our AIGC label.

Disclosure is needed when content isn't harmful but could be confusing, including when:

- A face is replaced with someone else's

- AI tools make it look like someone said something they didn't
- A background, object, or person is added or removed in a misleading way
- AI-generated audio mimics the voice of a real person

Disclosure isn't needed when:

- Making small edits like color correction, reframing, or cropping
- Using artistic styles, like anime
- Using generic text-to-speech (TTS) narration, when the TTS isn't a recognizable voice of a known individual

NOT ALLOWED

 - A public figure being degraded, harassed, or linked to criminal behavior
 - A public figure taking political stances, supporting products, or commenting on public issues they haven't actually addressed

- Any content that breaks our Community Guidelines, including those on impersonation, misinformation, and hate speech, even if it's AI-generated

FYF INELIGIBLE

- Any realistic-appearing content which isn't yet confirmed to be AIGC or significantly edited content, but presents matters of public importance in a way that could lead to misinterpretation, or cause harm to private figures

ALLOWED

- Humor or art, such as a spoof, meme, or TikTok dance

4. Unoriginal Content and Intellectual Property Rights

The creativity on TikTok is what makes our community special. We want to protect that. You should only post content you created or have the right to share. We don't allow content that violates someone else's intellectual property (IP) rights. If we become aware of content that breaks these rules, we will remove it. Learn more about our IP policies.

Content is also ineligible for the FYF if it includes unoriginal or reused material without anything new.

If you think your copyright or trademark rights have been violated, you can submit a copyright or trademark report through our in-app tools.

More information

Intellectual Property (IP): Legal rights that protect creative work you've made.

Copyrights: Legal protections for original works like music, videos, or artwork. They cover how the idea is expressed, not the idea or fact itself.

Trademarks: Words, symbols, slogans, or designs that identify and set apart a product or service from others.

NOT ALLOWED

- Content that violates someone else's copyrights, trademarks, or other IP rights

FYF INELIGIBLE

- Reused or unoriginal content posted without creative edits, such as clips that show someone else's watermark or logo
- Low-quality or minimally edited content, such as short clips made from GIFs only

5. Deceptive Behaviors and Fake Engagement

We want TikTok to be a trustworthy space where people around the world can create, connect, and learn. Authentic engagement is core to that experience—it helps power the recommendations you see.

That's why we don't allow accounts that mislead or try to manipulate our platform, or the trade of services that artificially boost engagement or trick the recommendation system. This includes behaviors like covert influence operations, impersonation, spam, fake reviews, and sharing hacked materials in harmful ways. You can have multiple accounts—for example, for fan content or creative expression—but not to deceive others or break the rules. If we find deceptive account behavior, we may:

- Ban your account
- Ban additional or new accounts you create
- Restrict your account, which could include limiting your ability to post new content, appear in top search results, or in the FYF

We strictly prohibit automation tools, scripts, or other tricks designed to bypass our systems. These can result in content removal, account bans, or other enforcement. If your account is restricted or banned, you may not create or use another account to get around it.

If we detect accounts or content with inauthentic metrics, we'll remove fake likes, followers, or other inflated signals. Content that tries to manipulate people into giving gifts or inflating likes or follows isn't eligible for the FYF.

More information

Covert Influence Operations (CIO): Coordinated, inauthentic behaviors where networks of accounts work together to mislead people or our systems and try to strategically influence public discussion. This may include attempting to undermine the results of an election, influencing parts of an armed conflict, or shaping public discussion of social issues.

NOT ALLOWED

- CIO activity, including:
 - Trying to deceptively influence elections, social issues, politics, or armed conflicts, including through hiding your account's real identity or intent
 - Accounts coordinating secretly to promote a candidate or political issue
 - Posting content on behalf of foreign entities (like a government or military) without saying so. We may make it harder to find content from accounts suspected of doing this while we review them
- Hacked materials distribution, when this poses a significant risk of harm. Note that we may allow limited discussion or distribution of hacked materials if there's a clear public interest and the content follows journalistic best practices
- Spam, such as:
 - Using automation to run many accounts or send repetitive content
 - Posting a large amount of irrelevant material

- Buying or selling followers or engagement for financial gain
- Using bots or scripts to write fake reviews or comments, or to increase likes or shares
- Impersonation by pretending to be someone else without clearly stating that the account is a fan or parody account in the display name
- Pretending to be a fake person or organization with the goal of misleading people
- Circumvention of our policies, which includes:
 - Spreading violative content across multiple accounts
 - Using a different account to continue violating policies after being banned
 - Returning to TikTok after being permanently banned for severe violations
 - Using another account to avoid restrictions, such as comment blocks or FYF-ineligible content restrictions
- Trading, marketing, or providing access to services that artificially increase engagement, such as:
 - Followers or likes
 - Fake reviews
 - Using AI or bot accounts to drive traffic
- Sharing how-to guides or tips for boosting engagement in fake or deceptive ways

- Tricking others into increasing engagement, such as:
 - "Like-for-like" promises
 - False incentives for gifting or following
 - Misleading claims meant to boost views or popularity

In some cases, when potential harms can be mitigated by additional controls, we allow limited paid

advertising from verified registered business accounts that meet TikTok's policies and legal requirements.

1. Regulated Goods and Services

We don't allow trading, marketing, or providing access to regulated, prohibited, or high-risk goods and services. For the most harmful goods and services, we prohibit both promotion and showing their use. For certain products like alcohol, we allow some content, but may apply restrictions to reduce potential risks. Learn more about substance use support here, and gambling resources here.

2. Commercial Disclosure and Paid Marketing

We value authentic viewpoints and want discussions on TikTok about products and services to be open and honest. If you're posting commercial content on TikTok, you must clearly disclose it using the content disclosure setting. This helps people understand when you're marketing something.

Disclosure is required when you're:

- Promoting your own business, product, or service
- Posting branded content, including reviews or endorsements, and receiving any kind of incentive in exchange

All branded content must also follow TikTok's Branded Content Policy, Ads Creative Policy, and Industry Entry Policy.

If commercial content isn't disclosed using the content disclosure setting, it will be ineligible for the FYF. If we find commercial content that hasn't been properly disclosed, we may apply the content disclosure setting or remove it from the FYF. Repeated failure to make a disclosure can lead to your account being temporarily restricted from posting content, or can lead to an account ban.

We don't allow any form of paid political advertising on TikTok. Learn more about our policy regarding Government, Politician and Political Party accounts.

TikTok is a place where you can learn from and engage with a wide variety of topics, and we don't want anyone to take advantage of your desire to engage and explore new topics.

That's why we don't allow any attempts to scam, trick or defraud people. This includes helping with financial scams, impersonating a celebrity to sell something or communicate with users, or fraud of any kind. Learn more about how to identify online scams and protect yourself.

Privacy and Security

Keeping your personal information safe—and making sure TikTok stays secure—is a big part of earning your trust.

1. Personal Information

What you share online can reach anyone. That's why we don't allow content with personal information that could lead to stalking, identity theft, fraud, or other harm. This includes content that someone has posted themselves or that they consented to being shared by others.

We may also remove moderate risk personal information shared without consent if it puts someone at risk of psychological harm. We generally require additional context to remove these types of personal information.

If you think your privacy has been violated, you can report it here.

More information

High Risk Personal Information: Information that is characterized by a heightened potential to cause physical, financial, or psychological harm to the individual. It includes:

- Home Address

NOT ALLOWED

For You Feed Eligibility Standards

The FYF is the heart of the TikTok experience. It's where you can discover new interests and hobbies, and where creators build thriving new communities. It's powered by a recommendation system that helps connect you to content, creators, and topics you might enjoy. The system looks at things like what you like, share, comment on, and search for, as well as what's trending. Learn more about the tools that help you understand and customize your recommendations.

We maintain content eligibility standards for the FYF that prioritize safety, and are informed by the diversity of our community and cultural practices. While the spontaneity of the FYF is what makes TikTok unique, it's intended for a range of audiences that includes everyone from teenagers to great grandparents. We make ineligible for the FYF certain content that may not be suitable for a broad audience. Learn more about the types of content we leave out from the FYF in the “FYF Ineligible” sections throughout our Community Guidelines.

Even if a video doesn’t make it to the FYF, people may still find it through search or by going to a creator’s account. If a video isn’t getting many views, it also doesn’t necessarily mean it broke a rule. Creators can check TikTok’s analytics to see how their videos are performing, including if there were any made ineligible for recommendation.

Our recommendation system is built to help people discover and enjoy a wide range of content—not just the same kinds of videos over and over. We aim to prevent our systems from repeatedly recommending content that could lead to a negative experience, such as extreme fitness or dieting, sexual suggestiveness, sadness, or overgeneralized mental health advice. During moments of crisis or unrest, we may also interrupt repetitive recommendations to help ensure people continue to see a broad mix of content, creators, and perspectives—just as the FYF is designed to do. Learn more about our work to keep your experience safe, varied, and fun.

Accounts and Features

1. Accounts

You must be at least 13 years old to have a TikTok account, though some places have different age restrictions. In the U.S., kids under 13 get a special TikTok experience with extra safety features, plus their own Privacy Policy. If we find that someone is too young to have an account, we will ban that account.

We’ll also take action if someone breaks our Community Guidelines. That can mean a warning, a restriction, or a full ban, depending on what happened. If suspicious activity is detected, we may also require a user to complete some verification steps—such as SMS or email confirmation, CAPTCHA, or a login via a verified mobile device—to confirm that they own the account.

We may ban an account or user for:

- Repeated rule violations
- A single, severe violation
- Trying to avoid enforcement
- Running accounts that are dedicated to breaking the rules, like spreading hate, the unauthorized trading of regulated, prohibited (e.g. counterfeit), or high-risk goods, or pretending to be someone else

If someone seriously breaks the rules or tries to dodge enforcement, we may ban all of their accounts.

Severe violations include:

- Inciting or threatening serious violence when there's a credible risk of harm or danger to public safety
- Engaging in child sexual abuse, including sharing, helping others access, or downloading CSAM, soliciting youth, or grooming
- Sharing graphic imagery of adult sexual abuse, including non-consensual acts or image-based abuse
- Coordinating or facilitating human trafficking or smuggling

We may also restrict or ban accounts belonging to people who have engaged in egregious off-platform behaviors, when we have sufficient evidence to support enforcement. These behaviors include being the member of a violent or hateful organization, committing an act of sexual abuse against a youth or adult, promoting or engaging in severe violent crimes (like murder), or engaging in human trafficking. When assessing these cases, we consider several factors, including the time since the act occurred, whether penalties have been served, efforts toward rehabilitation, and the potential impact on public interest discussion.

Sometimes, accounts that don't break the rules still post a lot of content that's ineligible for the FYF. In those cases, we may make the account and its content ineligible for the FYF and harder to find. Learn more about account enforcement here, and how to report an account here.

News and Government, Politician, and Political Party Accounts

News and Government, Politician, and Political Party accounts can play important roles in civic processes and civil society. Like everyone else, the content they post must follow our rules—but we may handle account enforcement for them a little differently, to support free expression and human rights.

If one of these accounts posts something that seriously breaks our rules, we may ban the account right away. For repeated but less serious issues, we may:

- Temporarily block their content from the FYF and appearing in followers' feeds
- In limited circumstances, also temporarily restrict the account from posting new content

Learn more about how we handle these types of accounts here.

More information

News Entities: Organizations mainly focused on sharing news to inform or educate. To qualify as a news account, the account must be legally licensed, certified or recognized by an intergovernmental organization, regulator, or reputable press organization.

Governments and Politicians: These include elected officials, candidates, government agencies, cabinet ministers, and official spokespeople. You can find details about who qualifies as a government, politician and political party account here.

2. TikTok LIVE

LIVE creators must maintain a safe environment. If a LIVE session includes content that violates our policies, the session may be stopped, and the creator could face temporary restrictions from going LIVE. Repeated or serious violations, including attempts to bypass restrictions, may result in an account ban. You must be 18 and older to go LIVE and to send gifts to a creator during a LIVE session.

If a creator repeatedly shares content that falls short of our FYF standards, then we may apply temporary restrictions, such as restricting the visibility of LIVE sessions or the use of certain LIVE features. LIVE sessions are also restricted to 18 and older when they contain content or behavior that isn't suitable for young people.

Authenticity within LIVE is essential. Pretending to be someone else or streaming someone else's content without permission may also lead to restrictions.

In multi-guest LIVE sessions, if a guest shares anything that breaks the rules, they'll be removed from the session, and the creator may lose access to guest features temporarily. In severe situations, the room may be stopped. If a guest shares content that's FYF ineligible, the LIVE will be removed from the FYF.

Lastly, LIVE creators are responsible for anything that happens during their sessions—even when it involves third-party tools like voice-to-text software, real-time translation, or on-screen comment displays. For example, if a voice-to-text tool reads out a harmful comment, the creator is still accountable for enabling that feature. Creators should actively monitor and manage any tools they use to help prevent violations. Repeated issues related to third-party tools may lead to restrictions on using LIVE or LIVE features.

Learn more about how to report a LIVE here.

LIVE Features and Monetization

LIVE is a monetizable feature through which you can earn rewards from TikTok. In addition to these Community Guidelines, in order to use LIVE to its full extent, you must comply with:

- LIVE Monetization Guidelines, in order to retain access to monetization features
- LIVE Feature Guidelines, to gain and retain access to the full suite of LIVE Features

For further details on gifting and rewards, see our Virtual Items Policy and our Rewards Policy.

LIVE Commercial Content

To maintain transparency for our users, commercial content on LIVE must be disclosed using the commercial disclosure toggle. Learn more about our policy regarding Commercial Disclosure and Paid Advertising.

In order to ensure that users have a positive experience when engaging with commercial content on our platform, we reduce visibility of content directing users to purchase products off-platform in markets where TikTok Shop is available.

LIVE Gaming

LIVE Gaming follows the rules in the sections above, with the important differences listed below. Eligible TikTok creators can use TikTok's LIVE Studio or third-party tools to share the device screen to showcase gameplay. We restrict mature game content that may not be suitable for young viewers.

More information

FYF INELIGIBLE (LIVE sessions)

- Contain graphic material that may cause disgust, including human and animal bodily functions and fluids (such as urine or vomit)
- Show low quality content, such as black, blank, or blur screens

3. Search

TikTok Search helps you discover content. In some situations—such as when there’s an elevated risk of harm to users or communities—we may limit visibility of certain search results.

In addition, some content that’s allowed on TikTok may not be suitable for all audiences, and might not appear as a top result.

Search results and recommendations may look different for everyone. That’s because we consider things like your past searches and what you’ve watched to help make results more relevant. We also try to highlight content from reliable sources at the top.

We recommend searches across TikTok to support discovery, learning, and exploration. To help ensure the experience remains safe and enjoyable, we prioritize entertaining and informative content in search recommendations, and don’t recommend terms associated with harassment, sensationalism, or graphic and disturbing themes. If you see a search recommendation that you believe violates our Community Guidelines, report it to us here.

4. External Links

Creators often share links in their bios, profiles, or videos to help you find more content. While many of these links are useful or informative, some lead to harmful content that isn’t allowed on TikTok. If a link breaks our rules, we’ll remove it. We may also temporarily stop you from posting links—or, for severe violations, ban your account.

5. Comments

Comments let you connect with others, which is a big part of TikTok. If a comment breaks our rules, we’ll remove it. If someone keeps breaking the rules, we may limit or remove their ability to comment; in more severe cases, we may ban their account.

Comments are sorted based on multiple aspects, including your past replies, likes, and reports. This helps keep the comment section relevant and engaging, and it may look different from one person to the next. Comments may be sorted lower if they don’t add to the conversation, like:

- Spam: Random text, irrelevant promotions, or links
- Profanity that's non-neutral or targets others
- Offensive Statements: Aggressive or provocative remarks about someone

Learn more about the tools you can use to control the comments on your own videos, and how to report a comment here.

6. Direct Messages

Direct messages (DMs) let you share videos and chat with one or more people. Some businesses also use automated tools to reply to messages. You must be 16 and older to use DMs.

If you violate "Not Allowed" rules, your message will be removed and you might be temporarily blocked from sending new ones. Repeat or severe violations can result in an account ban. Learn more about how to report a direct message here.

7. Monetization

TikTok offers tools that enable creators to earn money and cash rewards, and help businesses grow. You must be 18 and older to use monetization features.

To be eligible, you need to meet entry criteria and follow feature-specific rules. This includes, but isn't limited to, LIVE gifting, TikTok Shop, the Creator Rewards Program, TikTok Series, TikTok Subscriptions, TikTok Location Services, and TikTok Ads. To retain access to LIVE rewards from TikTok, LIVE creators must also comply with the LIVE Monetization Guidelines. Creators participating in all monetization programs must follow the Creator Code of Conduct. If you break the rules, we may temporarily restrict your access. Repeated violations can lead to permanent loss of monetization features. Content that isn't eligible for the FYF may also be restricted from monetization.

All commercial content must be disclosed using the content disclosure setting. This applies to content that promotes your brand or involves payment or perks from a third party. Branded content must also follow our Branded Content Policy, TikTok's Ads Creative Policy, and Industry Entry Policy and—where relevant—TikTok Shop Policies.

If we find commercial content that hasn't been properly disclosed, we may apply the content disclosure setting ourselves or remove it from the FYF. Repeated issues could lead to your account being temporarily restricted from posting content, or an account ban.

Enforcement

Public Interest Exceptions

We recognize that some content that would otherwise violate our rules may be in the public interest to view. Public interest refers to topics that inform, inspire, or educate the community and enhance deliberation about matters of broad collective significance. We may allow content to remain on TikTok under public interest exceptions, including:

- Documentary
- Educational
- Medical or Scientific
- Counterspeech
- Satirical
- Artistic

When reviewing content, we consider if the post raises awareness or challenges harmful behavior. If you want to post content that does this, you might consider using features like captions, stickers, or voiceover to make it clear.

Even if we allow content under a public interest exception, we might still:

- Make it ineligible for the FYF
- Add a warning screen
- Add a context label

We won't make exceptions for content that could cause extreme harm, like showing explicit imagery of abuse involving a young person.

Detection and Reporting

We aim to remove content or accounts that violate our rules before they are viewed or shared. Content first goes through an automated review process. If content is identified as a potential violation, it will be automatically removed, or flagged for additional review by our moderators. Additional review will occur if content gains popularity or has been reported. To support moderation accuracy, we apply additional quality assurance processes to some accounts that have already gone through additional validation processes, such as verified accounts.

Even with our robust moderation measures and processes, we can't guarantee that all content complies with our Community Guidelines or Terms of Service. If you see something that seems to break the rules, you can report it in the app or on our website.

Learn more about our enforcement efforts through our Transparency Center.

Notice and Appeals

We believe in fairness and consistency. If your content breaks a rule, we seek to explain to you why it was removed. If your account is banned, you'll see a message in the app. If your content is made ineligible for the FYF or otherwise restricted, this information will appear in the TikTok analytics tool.

If your account was banned, or your content was removed, made ineligible for the FYF, or otherwise restricted, and you believe this was an error, you may appeal the decision. Once your appeal is filed, you can view its status in the in-app Safety Center, as well as the status of any reports you have filed about other content or accounts.

 Under the “Not Allowed” rules in our Community Guidelines, we'll remove it.

We Age-Restrict Content

Some content may not be appropriate for people under 18. When we identify content that is not suitable for youth falls under the “Age-Restricted” standards in our Community suitable for younger audiences. We restrict content that may not be suitable so that it is viewable only viewed by adults (18 years and older). A summary of restricted content categories,

Community Principles

TikTok has eight guiding community core principles that are grounded in safety and guide how we develop our rules and our commitment how we make to complex enforcement decisions. They're all about keeping you safe, respecting human rights. Our rights, and supporting a creative and welcoming community. We developed these principles shape our day-to-day work and guide how we approach difficult enforcement decisions. They are centered on these themes:

- Balancing with the foundational goal of preventing harm prevention and enabling expression.
- Embracing human dignity
- Ensuring our actions are fair

We recognize that sometimes these principles will be in tension with each other. At times, we have to make difficult tradeoffs between competing goals. When that happens, we approach the decision thoughtfully and we carefully consider when we weigh one over another. These considerations are informed by international legal frameworks and industry best practices rely on trusted guidance, including the UN Guiding Principles; on Business and Human Rights, the International Bill of Human Rights, the Convention on the Rights of Children, and the Santa Clara Principles. We also seek input. Internationally recognized global human rights standards

- Feedback from our community, safety and public health experts, and our and Advisory Councils.
- Input from experts in online safety, public health, and related fields

Here are the eight principles:

1. Prevent harm: Our primary focus is keeping Harm: Keeping TikTok safe and a place for joy. We consider the fun is our top priority. Harm can look many ways that content or behavior may impact our diverse community. This includes individual different—it might be physical, psychological, emotional, or even financial, and privacy harms, as well as societal harms. To strike the right balance with free expression, we restrict content only when necessary and in a way that seeks to minimize the impact on speech.

2. Enable free expression: The Support Free Expression: TikTok thrives on creativity. unlocked by expression is what powers our vibrant community. We honor this principle by-providing the opportunity to share freely on our platform, while also proactively addressing behavior that can inhibit the speech of others. However, free expression ~~is not~~isn't an absolute right—it is. It's always considered in proportion to its

the potential harm, and ~~does not extend to having your content recommended in the For You~~can result in your feed.

~~3. Foster civility: Civility creates respect between people and helps communities thrive. The way we engage with each other online can sometimes threaten positive interactions with content being removed or not recommended in the FYF.~~

3. Encourage Kindness and Respect: We aim to foster a space where people treat each other with empathy and dignity. Our approach is designed to help prevent content that demeans or dehumanizes others, ~~so being civil on making~~ TikTok is critical to fulfilling our mission. This means acknowledging everyone's inherent dignity and conducting ourselves as if we were face-to-face. To ensure space for expression, we do allow a safer and more latitude for social critique of public figures, welcoming place for everyone.

~~4. Respect~~

4. Respect Local Cultures: People use TikTok in over 150 countries. We work with local context: TikTok brings together over a billion people across 150+ countries in one shared digital space. We work with regional experts and local communities to help ensure to make sure that our global approach considers the way harms are experienced across regions, and that we allow for regional applications of our guidelines, while ~~maintaining a baseline of~~ internationally recognized upholding human rights standards.

5. Champion inclusion: We want people from around the world to feel welcome on our platform. We value and Inclusion: We celebrate ~~different~~the diverse cultures, identities, appearances, viewpoints, interests, and experiences. We know that make up our TikTok community. We also recognize that some communities have historically ~~have been afforded~~faced fewer opportunities for engagement, so we arebarriers to participation and expression, and we're committed to the principle of equality and reducing disproportionate mitigating harms that disproportionately affect marginalized groups. harms.

6. Protect individual privacyPrivacy: We are committed to protecting ~~and respecting~~ the privacy of our community and our community and of individuals who areanyone shown or discussed ~~in~~on the platform. We strive to ensure that content ~~on the platform.~~ We seek to ensure that content shared on the platform does not~~doesn't~~ expose anyone's personal information or invade their intimate privacy.

7. Provide transparencyBe Transparent and consistency*Consistent: We want everyone to know what our rules and standards are, and how we apply them. We seek to provide clear notice of our policies and practices, to apply them consistently ~~and equitably~~, and to share our enforcement efforts ~~in at~~ our

~~our Transparency Center. We will be clear throughout the guidelines when we need to~~ ~~prioritize another principle over consistency, such as local context or inclusion.~~

8. Be fair and just: Moderating Act Fairly: Evaluating millions of pieces of content each day is a complex effort, ~~and but~~

~~developing a trusted process to do so is foundational. We are~~we're committed to being impartial

~~and evidence-based, producing fair outcomes, giving notice of enforcement actions, and~~ ~~, clear, and~~ providing an opportunityopportunities to appeal.

In rare and exceptional situations—such as crises or moments of social unrest—we may adjust our usual enforcement or rules to protect our community and address emerging harms, while remaining guided by our principles.

Youth Safety and Well-Being for people under the age of 18 ~~(. This is who we mean when we refer to them as “youth” or “young people”).~~
